Simplifying Communication

The agent headset range has been designed to make your working life easier by offering the ultimate in comfort, flexibility and superb clarity of sound. Agent also helps improve your productivity by freeing your hands from the telephone enabling you to multi-task while you talk to customers and clients alike. There is an agent headset to suit every working environment, whether you work in a noisy call centre, busy office or work from home.

Our single ear piece headsets are ideal if you need to be aware of what is going on around you during a telephone call, while the double ear piece headsets suit a noisy environment, as they deliver sound to both ears, enabling you to concentrate fully on the caller. Total peace of mind – the agent headsets product range comes with a 2 year repair/replace warranty, are RoHS compliant and CE approved.
